Pre-Engineering Pass/No Pass Guidelines
Spring 2020
Updated April 1, 2020

We have updated our Pre-Engineering Pass/No Pass guidelines in accordance with the recent university Pass/No Pass modifications.

For spring 2020, students are able to take pre-engineering courses for Pass/No Pass, and these courses will be reviewed for admission to Viterbi. A grade of Pass will be viewed as meeting the “B or better” requirement for the purpose of admission. There is no penalty for taking a pre-engineering course as Pass/No Pass.

If students are currently enrolled in pre-engineering courses, but are not eligible to be reviewed until a later semester, they are still able to take their current spring 2020 pre-engineering courses Pass/No Pass. Pre-engineering courses in subsequent semesters must be taken for a letter grade.

Courses that require a grade qualifier of C or better can also be taken as Pass/No Pass. A grade of Pass will meet the grade qualifier.

The deadline to make changes to grading options is May 27, 2020. Please reach out to a pre-engineering advisor at viterbi.studentservices@usc.edu before this date if you have any questions about your grading options.

Sincerely,

Viterbi Academic Services
